A Touchstone Energy® Cooperative

Balancing electricity supply and demand

ELECTRICITY IS ESSENTIAL for nearly every aspect of daily life—so essential that we rarely think about how it’s produced and delivered to our homes. You might be surprised to learn that behind the scenes, a network of experts is working daily (and even by the minute) to anticipate how much electricity you need before you even use it.

Ensuring the right amount of electricity for all involves a complex process of forecasting energy demand, planning for capacity and securing enough supply to meet your needs. That’s a big job in South Carolina, where our state’s rapid population and economic growth has driven a sharp increase in energy demand. There are many factors we must consider as we plan for the future.

Powerful sources

Electricity must be generated at a power plant using either traditional sources—coal, natural gas and nuclear energy—or from renewable sources, such as solar energy and hydropower. Electricity supply changes throughout the day because demand fluctuates based on consumers’ needs. For example, Fairfield Electric Cooperative knows we need to ensure more electricity in the mornings when you’re starting your day, and in the evenings when you’re cooking dinner, running appliances and watching TV. Demand also increases when weather patterns change, such as extremely warm or cold temperatures.

At Fairfield Electric Cooperative, we work closely with Central Electric Power Cooperative, our wholesale power provider, to secure enough electricity for our communities, using a diverse mix of energy sources to generate the power we deliver to your home or business. By maintaining a diverse energy mix, we have options to ensure reliable power at an affordable cost. Because Fairfield Electric Cooperative and South Carolina’s other electric cooperatives work with Central Electric, we can pool resources and expertise to deliver affordable power to our local communities.

Looking ahead

As the energy sector undergoes rapid change, it’s important for all consumers to understand the basics of electricity supply and demand.

Electricity use in the U.S. is expected to rise to record highs this year and next, and demand for electricity could at least double by 2050. At the same time, energy policies are pushing the early retirement of always-available generation sources such as coal- and natural gas-fired power plants, which make up the backbone of America’s power supply. Losing these generation sources before we have adequately replaced them puts the reliability of our power grid in jeopardy.

Fairfield Electric Cooperative remains committed to providing affordable, reliable energy to our members. That’s why we are preparing now for increased demand and other challenges that could compromise our local electric supply.

For instance, our power supplier, Central, was selected to receive up to $500 million from the federal government for clean energy projects. We’re pursuing this money in order to add approximately 700 megawatts of nuclear power, solar energy and battery storage to the statewide cooperative system—enough to power hundreds of thousands of homes and businesses across our state.

Managing the balancing act of electricity supply and demand is a complex job, which is why we have partners in place to direct the electricity you need from the power generating sources to your homes and businesses.

After such redefinition of the Districts, these Bylaws shall have been effectively amended accordingly, except that the areas embraced within such Districts may be changed by amendment of these Bylaws by the members from time-to-time in order to establish the most equitable and geographical representation of the Board; provided that any change so made by action of the Board shall be in full force and effect until at least the completion of the election of directors at the annual meeting of the members first held in accordance with such changes effectuated by the Board; provided further that no such change, may take effect so as to compel the vacancy of any director's office prior to the time that director's term would normally expire.

3. Information for Background Check and Potential Conflicts of Interest

A person seeking nomination for a trustee position must submit to the Board, not less than ten (10) days of the meeting of the Nominating Committee, whether through the Nominations Committee or by petition information sufficient to enable a back ground check to be conducted and any information relating to the person’s eligibility to serve as a Trustee.

4. Notification of Members of Nominee or Nominees

The Chief Executive Officer of the Cooperative shall mail to the members with the notice of the member meeting, or separately, but at least ten (10) days before the date of the member meeting or the commencement of early voting for the meeting, a statement listing the name and address of each nominee.

Section 4.07. Election of Board Members

The Secretary shall be responsible for providing ballots which may include electronic balloting to be used in the election of the Board members at each annual meeting of the members. The ballots shall list only the names of those candidates who were duly nominated either by the Nominating Committee or nominated by Petition.

Each member of the Cooperative who registers at an annual meeting of the members within a minimum of four (4) hours after the opening of the meeting or appears at an early voting site during the hours of operation of the early voting site shall be entitled to vote for one candidate from the member’s voting district and District At Large (when applicable), at the meeting. Each member shall cast his votes by marking his ballot. At any annual meeting of the members at which the total number of members registering at such meeting or voting at an early voting site should equal or exceed the number of members required for a quorum, as defined by these Bylaws, then the election of Board members held at that meeting shall be valid and the candidate from each district, or District at Large, receiving the highest number of votes shall be duly elected to the Board. If the total number of members who register at an annual meeting of the members within four (4) hours after the opening of such meeting or cast a ballot at an early voting site should be fewer than the number of members required for a quorum as defined by these Bylaws, then all votes cast at such meeting shall be void and no members shall be elected at the meeting.
